

GSE Champions

Why be a champion?

- You will be an ambassador for the GSE profession, championing the importance of Government Science and Engineering in your department
- It's flexible; you can decide how much of your time to dedicate according to your needs
- It counts as a corporate contribution
- You will have access to bespoke L&D activities; such as STEM Ambassador training
- This is your opportunity to network with other champions across government

What next? Email: GSE@go-science.gsi.gov.uk

GSE Champions

What will champions do?

- Engage in STEM outreach activities
- Build a GSE community within your department, working with Heads of GSE profession as required;
 - Organise your own GSE events - use them to showcase your work, set up networking opportunities, registration drives etc.
 - Build a GSE community space within your department or intranet - share news, events & L&D opportunities
- Communicate across GSE, write an article for our GSE blog & share your departmental news
- You will commit to the GSE Diversity and Inclusion pledge

What next? Email: GSE@go-science.gsi.gov.uk