

Introducing GSE Bitesize: a collection of Learning and Development (L&D) opportunities currently available to Government Science and Engineering (GSE) profession members; a mixture of events, training, workshops and visits.

Sign up or register interest in these now!

Ongoing opportunities

- Sign up to be a GSE Champion
- MentorMatch – Mentoring offer for the GSE profession
- Write for the GSE blog

Upcoming opportunities

- GSE Champions events 2018: Contact us to help organise networking events
- Civil Service Live June and July 2018: Volunteers needed to share their GSE career stories & help on the exhibition stand
- Support the Celebrating Votes for Women campaign. Take part in the Suffragette Flag Relay by hosting the flag or bid for money for local events
- Share your ideas of how GSE can support the Year of Engineering 2018
- Statistical Training run by the Office of National Statistics, at various locations

Coming soon

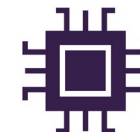

- GSE Leadership seminars
- Science communication training
- Economics training
- Workshop: How to network when working in security sensitive areas
- GSE Champions STEM ambassador training

Events

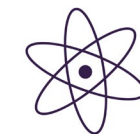

- 17, 24 and 26 April: GSE Fast Stream Performance Moderation Boards, Independent Panel Members required
- 30th April: GSE Unconscious Bias training

GSE reference material

- Reasons to join the GSE profession: What's in it for me?
- Understand how the GSE profession achieves global impact: We are GSE video animation
- GSE Strategy: One Year On report

E-learning

- Royal Society Discovering Science Series
- Civil Service Learning core curriculum
- Understanding Unconscious Bias

To find out more about any of these opportunities, email GSE@go-science.gsi.gov.uk

